2. UXMAL WITH CHOCOSTORY

Uxmal is known as "The three times built", it is located in an area of hills called Puuc, which breaks the monotony of the Yucatecan plain.

It is the most important city in the area as it had 20,000 inhabitants in its splendor (600 - 900 AD).

It is made up of 15 groups of buildings, highlighting the Pyramid of the Magician, the Quadrangle of the Nuns and the Governor's Palace. Later we will visit the Chocolate Museum, an approach which goes towards the interactive side, where we will be the protagonists of the tour. The concept of the museum is to rescue the history of cocoa; from Mexico to the world in the middle of botanical gardens with cacao trees along the way.

5. CENOTES OF SANTA BARBARA

The word "Cenote" comes from the Mayan "dzonoot" which means "abyss".

Cenotes are freshwater wells generated by the erosion of limestone. They are sacred places for the Mayan culture in which the underworld was accessed.

The cenotes of Santa Bárbara are one of the most beautiful since it is a set of three virgin cenotes that are within a complex that recently opened.

The wonder of this cenote complex is that its characteristics are different, all surrounded by native flora and fauna, and have stairs to access without danger.

To visit them, there are two options: the ride in a truck (a cart pulled with horses on a rail), or by bicycle, which allows you to organize your time and learn more about the surroundings.

Includes:

Transportation, certificate guide, tickets and food.

6. MAGIC TOWNS: IZAMAL AND VALLADOLID

Izamal is known as the City of the Three Cultures since three historical periods coexist in it: its archaeological pyramids as a pillar of its Mayan heritage, the Franciscan Convent and its inhabitants. Founded in the middle of the 16th century, it includes walks through its beautiful and picturesque streets, gastronomy, crafts and its people.

Valladolid is an historical and heroic city, here, two of the biggest historic events in Mexico took place: The castas war in 1847 and the first spark of the Mexican Revolution in 1910. It's a beautiful colonial town with neighborhoods of great majesty and beauty, featuring the fortified convent of San Bernandino of Siena in the XVI century and the cathedral of San Gervasio baroque set of the XVIII century.
